DISCLAIMER

Well Earth Design | Harmonic Space Alignment (HSA)

The services offered by Well Earth Design combine intuitive interior design, home staging, spatial assessment, and energy clearing to support the creation of beautiful, functional, and harmonious living environments.

Energy Clearing & Wellness

Energy clearing and intuitive assessments are complementary, wellness-focused practices intended to support a sense of balance, comfort, and well-being within a space. These services are based on intuitive and spiritual principles and are not scientifically established methods of diagnosing or treating physical, psychological, or environmental conditions.

They are not intended to replace professional medical, psychological, environmental, or other qualified services.

Design & Property Recommendations

All interior design, staging, and spatial recommendations are provided as guidance. Clients are encouraged to consult licensed or qualified professionals for structural modifications, electrical work, plumbing, building code compliance, environmental concerns, and other specialized services.

Results & Outcomes

Every home and individual experience is unique. While Well Earth Design strives to create spaces that feel balanced, welcoming, and aligned with each client's intentions, specific energetic, emotional, financial, or real estate outcomes cannot be guaranteed.

Energy clearing, intuitive assessments, and home staging do not guarantee the sale of a property, a particular selling price, or a specific timeline.

Client Responsibility

Clients retain full responsibility for decisions regarding their property, including renovations, purchases, financial commitments, and implementation of recommendations.

By engaging the services of Well Earth Design, clients acknowledge that intuitive and energy-based services are complementary in nature and that individual experiences and results may vary.